WEST VIRGINIA SOCIETY

CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

1989-2019

THIS PUBLICATION IS DEDICATED TO

Kathy G. Eddy

Kathy G. Eddy has distinguished herself in the West Virginia Society of CPAs, the West Virginia Board of Accountancy and the American Institute of CPAs. We dedicate this second volume of the History of West Virginia Society of CPAs 1990-2019 to her.

Kathy was born in Parkersburg, WV where she attended public school before going on to Marshall University. She graduated from Marshall in 1972.

Kathy then returned to Parkersburg where she began her accounting career. She passed the CPA exam in 1978. Her employment began with Robinson, Caltrider and Tenney, CPAs and has evolved into being a shareholder in McDonough, Eddy, Parsons & Baylous in Parkersburg.

Kathy has served the CPAs of West Virginia by being on the Board of Directors of the West Virginia Board of Accountancy, serving in all offices, including President. She has also served on the West Virginia Society of CPAs, again serving in all offices, including President. She continues to be an integral part of the accounting profession in West Virginia.

The American Institute of CPAs saw the diamond hidden in West Virginia! Kathy served on the Board, and eventually became Chairman of the AI CPA for the term 2000- 2001. She continues to be active with the AICPA in numerous capacities.

Her volunteerism isn't limited to her profession. Kathy has served on numerous non-profit organizations in and around Parkersburg.

Kathy's love of accounting and of Marshall University led her to establish the Kathy Eddy New Horizons Fund at Marshall University. That fund helps accounting students with expenses when they travel to expand their horizons to interact with professionals.

In 2015 Kathy was honored by the West Virginia Society of CPAs when the WV Young CPA of the Year award was renamed the Kathy Eddy WV Young CPA of the Year award. Both her New Horizons fund and the Young CPA of the Year awards are recognition of her dedication to young professionals entering the field of accounting.

A grateful Society says "THANK YOU, Kathy" for all that you have done for the CPAs you have represented and interacted with throughout your career.

WILLIAM M. ELLIS, JR.*

President 1993-1994

Bill Ellis was installed as the 75th President of the Society. He followed an excellent role model, his father William M. Ellis Sr., who was installed as president 40 years before him. Bill started into the accounting profession at an early age. His father founded the accounting firm of Ellis & Ellis in the 1940's.

After graduating from West Virginia University with a degree in Accounting, Bill served in the West Virginia Army National Guard. He then went to work with his father and uncle at Ellis and Ellis, CPAs, where he advanced to the position of managing partner. Bill worked tirelessly with his brothers, Michael and Mark, to carry on the family name. He served as President of the Charleston Chapter of the WVSCPA. Bill was later honored with the Public Service Award in 1997 and a Life Membership Award in 2003. He also was a member of the Charleston Estate Planning Council, was appointed to and served as President of the WV Board of Accountancy and was appointed as a member of Council in the American Institute of CPAs.

Apart from his business activities, Bill was very active in the community. He led and served on numerous boards, including The Children's Home Society, Junior Achievement, Thomas Memorial Hospital, and the YMCA. He was a member of Rotary International. He was chairman of the CRC Foundation, the Poe Foundation and the Harper Foundation. At his home church of Village Chapel Presbyterian, he was a trustee, a youth leader, and a long term usher. Bill passed away on September 1, 2016 and is survived by his wife, Dianne, and daughters Heather and Marisa.

EDWARD P. MCDONOUGH

President 1994-1995

Ed has a long history as a native of Parkersburg. After graduating from West Virginia University with a B.S.B.A. in Accounting, Ed returned to Parkersburg in 1976 after working for three years in Baltimore.

He entered practice with Ben Johnston and the firm was incorporated in 1980 as Johnston, Leach, McDonough & Eddy. In 1985 Ed became the managing shareholder of what is now McDonough, Eddy, Parsons & Baylous. Ed and his wife, Kathy Eddy, are shareholders in the firm. Ed claims there are many pluses to sharing a profession with his wife.

The entire firm has striven to actively participate in Society programs. As Ed states “The rewards of Society participation are numerous. They become even greater as one looks back and realizes all the benefits that have been gained.” Without his firm’s involvement in the Society, Ed thinks they, “would be shortsighted, and not looking beyond current boundaries.”

The two McDonough sons, Edward and Brian, play a role in the time and interest the couple devotes to activities outside the profession.

MARK A. CHANDLER

President 1995-1996

Mark was the first Society president representing industry since 1984. During his time as President, he served as the head of the Tax, Treasury and Financial Planning Departments at Columbia Natural Resources. However, Mark got his start in public accounting. Mark currently serves as the Senior VP/CFO for Triana Energy Holdings LLC.

Beginning college as an engineering student, Mark left engineering to pursue his natural inclination to business. He found that being a CPA is an asset as well as an excellent entrée into the business world. While a student at Marshall, Mark worked with his landlord's CPA firm in Huntington. In 1984 he became associated with W. M. Lockwood, the firm which later became known as Lockwood and Chandler CPAs.

Mark credits his wife, Pamela, as a wonderful helpmate. She works in their outside business ventures and brings her own accounting skills to this team. In fact, the couple met while Mark and Pam worked for the same accounting firm, but a firm policy prevented their dating. Pam, being perceptive, left the firm on April 15, and the couple had their first date on April 16. Later their wedding anniversary would also be on April 16. They have two children, Erin and Evan.

CLIFTON L. LOONEY, JR.

President 1996-1997

Not only did Skip become the 78th president of the Society, but he also has served a two-year term as chairman of CPA Associates International. This position enabled him to observe how CPA firms operate in other parts of the country. Skip was also proud to say that he was the tenth partner from Somerville & Company to become President of the Society.

Skip candidly admits that he entered accounting due to a talk given by Glenn Hall and Herb Diamond to his Math Club when he was a junior in high school. He noted that both men were driving large, impressive cars and obviously they both worked with math. Bingo! Skip liked math and aspired to drive a big car, so accounting was where he directed his interests.

During the four years that Skip attended Marshall University, he worked in public accounting. He credited this accounting experience with giving him an edge in college as well as in public accounting. During his Presidency, he was the managing partner of Somerville and Company. He also served a two-and-a-half-year stint as the first chairman of the Society's Peer review program.

Skip's wife, Jonnean, was his high school sweetheart. They have two daughters, Melissa and Brooke.

THOMAS E. MILLER

President 1997-1998

Tom was the 79th president of the Society and the third from the ranks of industry. Tom, however, is familiar with the needs of public practice members, given that his initiation into accounting was in public practice.

Tom entered accounting due to the motivation from an outstanding high school teacher. Encouragement was also provided from a neighbor in New Martinsville, a CPA/professor. During his junior and senior years at Marshall University, he interned at Somerville and Company in Huntington. Upon graduation, Tom worked at Somerville in the audit area. In 1989 he left public accounting to work for Ashland Coal. During his Presidency, he served as Internal Auditor for the company, which merged with Arch Coal.

Tom and his wife, Becky , met while students at Marshall. They have two sons, Drew and Corey, who are all sports enthusiasts and avid Marshall fans.

ROBIN M. BAYLOUS

President 1998-1999

Robin has been with McDonough, Eddy, Parsons since 1979 and currently serves as Vice President and Shareholder. She has been an active member of the Society for years serving on different committees and project groups. Robin is a Cum Laude graduate of West Virginia University in Business Administration (1977) and has been a CPA since 1978. Even though she had offers in industry accounting, Robin knew from the beginning that public accounting was the area where she wanted to practice and has not regretted it.

In addition to her service to the Society, Robin has been an active member and officer of a number of organizations. This includes the Parkersburg YWCA, Zonta and the West Virginia Women's Commission.

Robin's husband, Darrell, was also a CPA with McDonough, Eddy, Parsons and Baylous. Darrell passed away on November 17, 2007. Cassi Baylous, Robin and Darrell's daughter, is currently a CPA with Arnett Carbis Toothman.

WALLACE F. SUTTLE*

President 1999-2000

Installed as the 81st Society president, Jack was also a finalist for the West Virginia Area Entrepreneur of the Year Awards for two years. For the firm's effective work in the health care field, Jack was the recipient of the 1998 Walter Mitchell Jr Award from the WV Health Financial Management Association and the 1998 Distinguished Service Regent's Award from the American College of Health Care Executives.

He attended Charleston School of Commerce to study accounting and later graduated from Morris Harvey College (University of Charleston) with an accounting degree. Jack finished his degree in four years while maintaining a full-time job. He passed the CPA exam in 1971. He then founded Suttle & Stalnaker, PLLC, with his business partner, David Stalnaker, and served many years as the managing partner of the firm. During his 40-year accounting career, he was a visionary and focused on improving his profession. After his retirement from the firm in 2004, he volunteered as the accounting teacher at Elk Valley Christian School and became the school's principal from 2013 to 2018. He dearly loved his students and cared for them as his own children.

Jack's other passion was performing with his family ministry work through Southern Gospel Music. This included Jack's wife, Nancy, son Wally, and daughter Lynette. They would travel between thirty and forty thousand miles a year throughout the eastern part of the United States. Performing at churches and festivals, the Suttles also recorded several CDs and tapes. Jack passed away on October 11, 2018, after a short battle with cancer.

THOMAS L. AMAN

President 2001-2002

Tom Aman was the 83d President of the Society. Tom attended Fairmont State College for his first two years of school, then transferring to West Virginia University to complete his final two years of college with a degree in Accounting.

In 1970, he became part of Toothman Rice when there were only five employees. Tom rose quickly in the firm, making partner in four years. When Eugene Toothman retired as managing partner in 1981, Tom was selected to fill that role. In this period, he saw the firm increase to its present 48 associates with locations in Clarksburg, Buckhannon, Fairmont and Morgantown.

Tom has been involved with many activities and organizations such as the Harrison County Chamber of Commerce, Health Access and United Way as well as other economic and civic organizations. He is a founding member of Leadership Harrison and Health Access. Professionally he has given numerous technical and practice management presentations to state, regional and national conferences.

GEORGE V. O'MALLEY, JR. President 2004-2005

George O'Malley, Jr. served as the 86th President of the WVSCPA. Entering accounting was a natural step for George since he was encouraged to enter the field by his high school bookkeeping teacher. Upon enrollment at Marshall University, he declared his major as accounting and never looked back.

Beginning with the firm of Tuckwiller and Gleason, George served as tax manager. He worked with the firm for five years before deciding to make the move into industry, which he preferred. He then took a position as Vice President of Accounting for Energy Corporation of America. George found accounting to be a highly rewarding profession, and saw much value in the face-to-face interaction the Society provides.

Aside from work, George is very family oriented. He takes much pride in his son, Patrick, his daughter, Meredith, and his wife, Jamie.

JOHN S. “JACK” BODKIN, JR.

President 2007-2008

John S. Bodkin, Jr. served as the Society’s 89th President. Jack enrolled at Wheeling College, now Wheeling Jesuit University in the mid-sixties as an economics major. But when he took a Principles of Accounting class, something clicked and he quickly changed majors.

Jack’s career path began in 1969 as one of the staff accountants with Arthur Andersen in New York. He remained there for a few years, after which he worked for The Hertz Corporation and then returned to public accounting with Coopers & Lybrand. Commuting on the Long Island Railroad helped him make the decision to return to Wheeling, and beginning in 1977 Jack was with the firm that evolved into the present-day Bodkin Wilson & Kozicki PLLC. Auditing was the main focus of his career, although as a small firm practitioner, he was versed in a variety of accounting issues.

Jack always urged young CPAs to become involved in Society activities at an earlier age than he did because of its many benefits for the profession. Jack lives in Wheeling with his wife Christine, and has a daughter, Kate, and a son, John.

BRADFORD E. RITCHIE

President 2015-2016

Brad Ritchie, 97th Society President, currently serves as President of Summit Community Bank, Inc. and has been Senior Vice President at Summit Financial Group Inc. since January 1, 2012.

A Summersville native, Brad knew he wanted to become an accountant but had no idea how to accomplish that goal since nobody from his family had ever graduated from college. His father, a core driller for a coal mine, got Brad a job as an assistant on a drill rig to pay for college. This was the experience that truly shaped his work ethic. Brad holds a degree in Business Administration and Accounting from West Virginia University. After college, Brad accepted his first job with Arnett & Foster and it didn't take long to realize he enjoyed the banking industry. Brad had an 11 year run with United Bank before accepting the position with Summit Community Bank.

Brad says his family the most important part of his life - his wife, Robin and two sons, Evan and Trey.

VIRGINIA C. SLACK

President 2016-2017

Virginia C. Slack has served as a sole practitioner in Elkvew, WV for over 35 years. Not a native West Virginian, she grew up in Hickory, NC and attended NC State University. After graduating with a degree in Accounting and working in Raleigh, as Virginia likes to say, she met this “West Virginia guy.” Not ever having visited West Virginia, her new husband, Charlie, convinced her that it would be a great place to live!

After moving to Charleston in 1978, Virginia was employed by Arnett and Foster. She worked for six years in many areas of audit and taxation. As Virginia and Charlie began their family, she decided that she wanted to solely concentration on tax preparation and form her own tax practice. As Virginia’s three daughters grew up, she was able to spend more time volunteering on WVSCPA committees. As Virginia states, “I truly depended on my connection with the WVSCPA to enhance my practice. From continuing education to network opportunities, my membership in the WVSCPA consistently contributed to the professional level of service I was able to provide my clients.”

In 2010, Virginia was presented the President’s Award for service on the Small Practitioner Committee. In 2011, she joined the Board of Directors and in 2016 was elected to be the 98th President of the WVSCPA. Virginia says, “it was the greatest honor of my professional career to serve the Society, the membership and to represent small practitioners around the state.”

Currently Virginia resides with her husband in Elkvew and enjoys any time that she can spend with her three daughters, one step-son and seven grandchildren.

From 2004 forward, the award is given to the individual who, on their first sitting for each of the four parts of the Uniform CPA Examination, makes the highest average passing score on all four parts. The individual must have completed and passed all four parts within twelve months of the date of passing the first part taken.
